MIDWEST YOUTH ORGANIZER TRAINING

CFS is collaborating with other social justice and youth-led social change organizations to offer a four-day training institute for youth organizers and youth workers who are interested in working through a social justice lens.

This training program will help you to:

- Learn about different models of youth-led social change approaches.
- Develop holistic leadership development approaches that address identity development and the social-emotional needs of young people.
- Learn practical organizing and movement building skills.
- Connect issue-based organizing, constituency-based organizing and other anti-oppression work to a historical context.
- Learn about popular education approaches and how to work through an anti-oppression lens.

Training Hours:
Tuesday - Friday
9 a.m. - 5 p.m.
at the CFS Office
(Breakfast at 8:30 a.m.)

Trainees are expected to attend all four days of the training institute.

April 27 - 30, 2010

The Chicago Freedom School is dedicated to promoting diversity and providing space that supports true equality by embracing all marginalized groups and identities, including but not exclusively people who identify as people of color, LGBTQ, people with disabilities, homeless, ex-offenders and those impacted by the juvenile justice system, and people with learning disabilities. We are committed to accommodating specific needs individuals may have accordingly and to providing facilities and materials that are accessible to all.
